REPORTING POLITICS

THERE is no more exacting news assignment than reporting politics. This is true particularly in a presidential year.

United Press, with its cuctomery foresight, last June began its factual, unbiased, impartial political coverage for the 1936 presidential campaign. Representatives of ten states met in the min-west grass roots convention at Springfield, Ill., at that time.

Since then expert United Press political writers have en moving across the United States covering the big pre-convention stories; making cross section surveys of surious states; interviewing prospective candidates; watching new political movements and reporting day by day maneuvering.

These factors incure dominant political news coverage for UNITED PRESS ... ACCURACY ... SPELD ...

Fifteen minutes later, she answered Eve's summons

"I'm nired, Marianne! And thriled to death! The doctor is going to take me out to see the hospital now."

"I'm sure your sister is going to like her new work." Dr. Lawson interposed gravely. "She and the other office workers will live at the nurses' home. You must come out and see her often."

"Thanks. I will. And Doctor." as he rose and picked up hat and gloves "there's something else I want to talk to you about."

"Yes?"

"There's a boy at the orphanage. David—a cripple. I want you to get him to the hospital as soon as it opens. I—er—will take care

"I'm sure your sister is going to like a possible. When they reached the nostitual. Dr. Lawson came out to greet them.

"Well. David!" He held out his hand. "Something tells me we're soing to get along famously."

David smiled and placed his hand in the doctor's. He looked up at the fine new building.

JOHN CUSACK CLAIMS BRIDE AT ALAMEDA

At a beautiful ceremony recently at the Alameda First Presbyter-ian church, John Cusack, son of Mrs. Aldah Cusack of Richmond, claimed as his bride Miss Heien Elinor Davis of Alameda. Rev. George Petrie read the ceremony.

A large number of Richmond residents-friends of the coupleattended the services.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Thomas E. Davis. She was attended by Miss Mary Walls of Oakland, Miss Margaret Nelson of Alameda and Mrs. Frank Kuenzly, Jr. of Pittsburg as honor attendants; Mrs. Harold Andree and the Misses Ruth Flores, Louise Chun and Merle Wessel as bridesmaids.

Thomas Davis, brother of the bride, was best man. Reid B. Bullock and Richard Plate, of Richmond, were among the ushers.

A reception followed in the church parlor and the couple then left for a week's honeymoon trip.
On their return they will make their home in Pinole where Cusack is manager of a Shell service sta-

WHEN THE GALL BLADDER BECOMES "SICK"

The gall bladder is attached to the liver and acts as a small reservoir for bile which slowly flows into it from the liver. The bile stored in the gall bladder then reaches the intestine and is useful to digestion. The gall bladder may become "sick" and after the gall bladder ceases to function properly either because of sluggishness or because of inflammation, it may become a serious menace to health.

to digestion. The gall bladder may become "sict" and after the gall bladder ceases to function properly either because of allagramas or because of inflammation, it may become a serious menace to health.

When the gall bladder fails to do its work in a normal way, the first symptoms which develop are likely to be similar to those seen in indigestion. Most of the symptoms of an upset digestion are found in a gall bladder disorder. Undoubtedly, many patients who believe that they have stomach trouble actually have sick gall bladders.

The amazing feature of these cases is how long the patient will worry along with his symptoms before seeking help. He may wait as long as ten years before deciding to see a doctor. Records show that patients have endured gall bladder disturbances over a period of thirty years, without using any treatment or making any determined effort to obtain selled from the resulting distress. Inasmuch as it is usual for the symptoms to be partially relieved at intervals, the patients will have periods when it causes discomfort.

Gall bladder inflammation is most frequently found after forty and is more common among women than among men. The usual condition is that of a mild ehrone inflammation, although there may be no evidence of inflammation and the chief problem is that the gall bladder fails to function in a normal manner. It was a pain on the right side, near the liver, together with a heavy dragging sensation. This may not be an actual pain, but may more closely resemble a disagreeable, neaging discomfort. Most of the distress is on the upper right side of the abdomen, although the Assay reflex and appear as an ache under the right shoulder blade. Pressure over the gall bladder are with the fingers may elicit a feeling of tenderness. In describing this, the patient will say, "It does not feel sore unless I press upon it."

The chief causes of a "sick" gall bladder is causing the symptoms, a careful examination must be made. The stomach should first be examined, and if the stomach is normal

Most girls with glasses should avoid wearing their hair too long or having it too fluffy and curly. It is true that you need softness around your face, but keep the curls neat and restrained. Some girls who wear glasses find that a tousled mass of boyish curls is becoming.
